Discussion

- Call to Order/Introductions/Agenda Review

- Instruction Update
    - o Shared data from the Accessibility Learning Series that was led in February.
    - o Shared data from YouTube channel and crash course videos.
        - o DECISION This summer, Devon will create the following crash course videos:
            - Finding newspapers and magazines in NC LIVE
            - Logging on to NC LIVE from home
            - Data-Axle Reference Solutions
            - Morningstar Investment Research Center

- Historic NC Newspapers Collection

● Reviewed the results of pilot-testing the self-paced course.
    o DECISION: For the launch date on May 15th, announcements for the course will be sent to relevant listservs (NCPLDA, NCCCLA, and NCLA) to share that it is available to member libraries.
    o DECISION: Additional promotion will be done in mid-August to coincide with the start of the school year for academic libraries and the end of the busy season for public libraries.

● Decided on the structure of the Project Planning workshop in June.
    o DECISION: For the project pitching session led by CETAC members in the afternoon, they will facilitate small group discussion at tables and provide conversation starters. Group will record their ideas on chart paper and present to all attendees at the end of the workshop.

● Began planning for the DEIA Learning Series in November and reviewed instruction topics suggested at the January CETAC Meeting.
    o DECISION: Devon will contact Michael Brown, a PhD student from Clemson University, to see if he is interested in leading a webinar for the DEIA Learning Series. He spoke about leveraging technology for inclusive libraries at the ER&L Conference this year.
    o DECISION: The training program will host the following events:
    1. An in-person workshop on effective communication and difficult conversations in February 2024
    2. Online workshops on resources for adult learners and non-traditional students in Fall 2023
